

JOB DESCRIPTION

POSITION TITLE: Project Development (Europe East)
BUSINESS UNIT: Business Development (DFO)
LOCATION: Madrid (Availability to travel)
REPORTS TO: Head of Business Development, Other Europe

OVERVIEW:

Leading global operator specialised in the complete management of solar, wind and battery assets for the generation and storage of electricity is looking for a with an experienced Project Developer within the energy sector, preferable with experience developing large scale renewable energy projects.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

As part of the Business Development team of Europe, this position will be accountable for supporting the different stages of project development, including:

- Analysing different project opportunities at various stage of development;
- Origination of investment opportunities in green field and brown field renewable projects in various European countries, and in different stage of development
- Close follow-up with third-party local developers to ensure all project phases until achievement of Ready-to-build status (site screening, project feasibility, interconnection and permitting) are aligned and in good progress;
- Liaising with third-party project developers.
- Preparing project progress reports, proposals, and presentations required for internal purposes and for tendering processes;
- Drafting project documents and presentations;

QUALIFICATION AND EXPERTISE:

- Bachelor's degree in Engineering or relevant field is required. Masters or higher degrees will be highly valued.
- +5 of professional experience working in project development roles from Renewable energy projects (PV, BESS and/or Wind) within European countries (Eastern Europe would be appreciated).
- Strong background in power systems (e.g. Electrical Engineer) will be highly valued.
- Familiarity with permitting and interconnection processes.
- Excellent English both written and oral. Additional languages will be highly valued
- Experience with project management method (e.g. PMI) and planification tools (e.g. MS Project), highly valued.

SOFT SKILLS:

- Excellent communication skills
- Problem-solving

- Analytical thinking
- Proactive
- Team spirit